FACE FILE® TO LAUNCH FIRST PARENT PRESENTATION AT COLUMBINE HIGH SCHOOL

Face File Provides a Free Personal Protection System Through the Use of a Cell Phone's Camera

WHO: Columbine High School, Face File® and the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office.

WHAT: An evening of safety hosted by Frank DeAngelis, Principal of Columbine High School, and two leading safety specialists that will present their impactful demonstrations at the school's parent meeting.

Rob Wilcox, Co-Founder of Colorado-based Face File, the personal protection system that sends instant safety alerts through the use of a cell phone's camera, will introduce his company's self-protecting technology to the parents of Columbine students. This is Face File's first parent presentation in the nation.

Mike Harris, well-known Senior District Attorney Investigator who specializes in crimes against children and heads the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office's Child Sex Offender Internet Investigations (CSOII) Unit will present his "Stranger Danger – Internet Strangers" program.

WHEN: Wednesday, March 18, 2009

6:00 – 7:00 PM: Investigator Mike Harris/Stranger Danger – Internet Strangers

7:00 – 8:00 PM: Rob Wilcox/Face File – One Click Could Save Your Life

WHERE: Columbine High School – auditorium

6201 S. Pierce Street

Littleton, CO 80123

303.982.4400

WHY: DeAngelis is a strong supporter of student safety, and he believes it has to begin with the parents. This is a rare opportunity for the media to attend an event at Columbine High School, but because two powerful presentations will be conducted, DeAngelis welcomes the media and hopes to spread the word about smart safety practices for students and their parents.
